

NEW WATER SUPPLY SYSTEM - The shaded portion of this map indicates the general area in Milam County to be included in the Southwest Milam Water Supply Corporation. The system will supply water to 15 communities in a four-county area, including Williamson, Lee, Burleson, and Milam. It will be the largest such system in Milam County upon completion. A May 23 meeting is scheduled to start final planning work on the project.

Contest To Name Milam FB Queen

A search for beauty and talent in Milam's farm population starts this week with registration for the Milam County Queen's contest.

Contest date has been set for July 11 with registration ending July 1. The beauty and talent contests will be judged separately with winners receiving gift certificate awards and the opportunity to compete in the state contest.

Contestants for Milam Farm Bureau Queen must be a daughter or sister of a Milam County Farm Bureau member actively engaged in agricultural production. She must be single and between the ages of 16 and 22. The new queen will receive a $50 gift certificate and all expense paid trip to the Farm Bureau state convention. Runner-up will receive a $25 gift certificate.

City OKs Road For Motorcycles

City Council heard requests for a motorcycle roadway, more street paving, and discussed paving methods and materials at a short, regular meeting Tuesday evening.

Councilmen also urged continuing investigation of the destruction of a fire hydrant early Tuesday morning.

Local motorcyclists were represented at the meeting by Eugene Schattell. He asked the City's permission for riders to use a vacant field between the Cameron Airpark and North Fannin St.

Schattell said cyclists have been riding at Ledbetter Park, and added that no club for riders has been organized, as they do not want to be identified as a "gang."

He added that go-cart owners would also like to use the spot for driving their vehicles. Go-carts are prohibited by State law from being driven on streets or highways.

Mayor E. A. Perrin recommended granting use of the field and grading a circular roadway for the cyclists, adding that it will be good "for letting off high spirits."

The motion approved by Councilmen stipulates that each individual using the roadway will be required to sign a waiver releasing the City from responsibility in case of accidents or injury.

Another condition is that the group will be responsible for policing the road and controlling entry into the area.

A committee was appointed to work with Street Supt. James Hale and the group to lay out the track. Councilmen Lester Turner, chairman; Robert Clark, and Monroe Fuchs are on the committee.

Water Supt. Alvin Hefft reported that a fire hydrant at 22nd and Karnes Sts. was knocked

4 - County Area Will Be Served

Washington approval of the preliminary project report gives the go-ahead to Southwest Milam Water Supply Corporation to start final planning for a new central water system.

When completed, the new system will be the largest in Milam County.

The water system will serve the south and southwest parts of Milam County and extend into Williamson, Lee and Burleson counties, according to Henry N. Ivey, county supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration.

A general membership meeting is required to formally incorporate the corporation and start the final planning work. The meeting is scheduled for May 23, 8 p.m., in the Rockdale High School auditorium.

All persons who have signed up to become members of the corporation and those who are interested in becoming members of the corporation should be present, Ivey said.

A minimum of 51 percent of the membership must be present at the meeting before any further progress can be made toward final approval of the project.

Persons from the following communities, which will be served by the water system, are urged to attend the meeting:

Hanover, Hoyte, Sandy Creek, Black Jack, Chriesman, Bowers Lake, Forest Grove, Tanglewood, Bushdale, Mt. Zion, Conoley, Pleasant Retreat, Gay Hill, Salty, and Shiloh.

Present at the meeting will be Ivey, who will render the conditions of approval and what must be done to receive final approval of the project; Don G. Humble, the corporation's attorney; and Roger Erickson, project engineer of Austin, who will answer questions concerning the engineering phase.

'Clean & Green' Is Guard Project

Local National Guardsmen of SE Co B 3d Bn Abn 143d Inf, 71st Airborne Brigade, will take part here, Saturday, May 23 in a state-wide project dubbed Operation "Clean and Green."

Members of the local unit will join with 18,000 other Texas Army and Air National Guardsmen in an effort to collect a small part of the litter which accumulates daily on public property in Texas.

Each of the State's 218 National Guard units will devote the first hour of its regular May drill to the project.

"We are directing our local effort toward cleaning up the Wilson - Ledbetter Park," said Lt. Fat W. Simpson, Army Commander of the unit. "Participation by individual Guardsmen in the project is voluntary."

Cameron Mayor E. A. Perrin praised the project as "being worthy of the unit and its personnel and of great value to the community."

"Our objective is to see each National Guardsman collect at least one bushel basket of litter during the one-hour period," said Major Gen. Ross Ayers, Texas Adjutant General.

The project was adopted to assist in Gov. Preston Smith's efforts to clean up Texas roadways and public facilities. All cleanup operations will be restricted to public property such as parks and roadways.

We are most flattered that Bryan Public Library is subscribing to The Cameron Herald.

A letter from the assistant librarian this week asked for a year's subscription there.

The Herald is appreciative of the grand response of Herald readers everywhere to the introduction of "Texas" newest semi-weekly."

But this request strikes a note for this newspaper.

The Cameron Public Library and school libraries in the area, plus newspapers to some adult education classes are other places where The Herald is so honored.

One of the first civic projects this newspaper committed itself to a decade ago, following production of a Centennial history of the paper and the vitals of Milam County, was a Cameron Public Library.

We are quite aware of publication age. We are aware of the importance of continuity, and we are aware of the need to update what we do, even in the inordinate range of change now commonplace.

All this awareness, to keep a long bore short, naturally took us to the building of a library, acquisition of books to fill it and an unnatural pride in its completion after a five-year movement and funding program.

A library is permanently what a newspaper is daily or weekly. No library contains all the information of its community and its world any more than a newspaper contains all the information of community and world. But each contains a good share, which in shared purpose, is dispensed to the public for information and erudition.

We are not so sure people are more erudite after reading an issue of The Herald. They may be piqued or pleased, however.

That a library in another county would seek a subscription is flattering. Maybe somewhere there's an Aggie that loves us.

We are also in debt to "The Junior Historian", published by Texas State Historical Association, upon publishing a paper by Donna Jeter, daughter of city editor Mrs. Bess Jeter. The four-page piece surveys the 111 years to which this column's title attests.

The same May issue does six pages on "Land Records in Milam County", by William L. McIntosh, Jr., also a history student of Miss Ada Margaret Smith last year when both papers were written. It has numerous pictures and maps.

Publication of both articles touch on these old institutions, Milam County Abstract Co., founded in 1879, and The Herald, its predecessor paper, the Milam Centinel, founded in 1860. The abstract company is owned by Mr. and Mrs. John B. Henderson, Sr.

More than age works on the attrition of this country's institutions, whether business or newspaper, church or state.

Maybe that's why durability begins to fascinate American people now. If something stands a hundred years or so, there is plenty of reason.

It is interesting that home buyers now show great interest in old homes, because of high costs of building new ones and sometime lack of durability.

This may cite a return to the institution of the home, which has been on shaky ground in terms of family and "place where" since World War II.

Maybe updated institutions can compete with the new and modern. Maybe their age and roots strengthen their growth potential in a day when super mobility is becoming suspect.

Maybe The Herald, chock full of names and events, some not always to readers' liking, is able to keep up. And maybe its lineage once again represents what it always has: strength.

Thanking again, we appreciate the visit of a large group of Milam school students to Herald offices Wednesday. We believe the count was about 80.

Milam's high school, as well as high schools in Cameron, Buckholts and Rogers will be subjects of a special section this coming weekend, dedicated to the hundreds of high school graduates of 1970 in this area.

Who will run the country?

What now is at stake is the power of the Executive Order which is the means by which U.S. troops were committed to Cambodia.

A group of U. S. senators not only wants to limit future funds for Cambodian-type ventures, they also want to limit funding or Presidential authority by saying exactly when we are out of Southeast Asia.

Having viewed some of the quixotic flurries in the U.S. Senate, we would question their judgment as much as they question President Nixon on Cambodia.

What kind of apparatus would result is anybody's guess. If the executive branch is too powerful, should the Senate bewilder in the leadership of several whose main hope is support from the young.

We see dangers in the seniority system in both House and Senate, but when Byah, Kennedy and a few others claim insight no one has, it gives pause to know what is best for legislative leadership.

Senator Kennedy was asked, according to one report, to support Nixon and reduce divisiveness in the country. The request was by columnist Joseph Alsop, one-half of a prestigious reportorial team in the capital.

Kennedy declined, saying the "young protest the very existence of the battlefield, for it has no place in their vision of the country that is soon to be theirs."

If he speaks of Ralph Nadar as a young reformer, we can agree. If he speaks of the hopeless mix of idealism and

MEAT IDEA OF MAYOR

LINDSAY TAINTED

Rep. John Melcher (Mont.) ... Late last week, Mayor Lindsay of New York was very badly misled by the newly augmented and feverishly active MEAT IMPORTS COUNCIL which is distributing around town a copy of a letter the mayor sent to all New York Congressmen. In effect, it charges American cattlemen with conspiracy to keep meat production down and to prevent imports from coming in to relieve the situation.

"Meat output at (local) federally inspected plants the week ending April 18 (was) up 8 percent. (A chart in the Record details the monthly gains in beef production)."

"The mayor's obvious play to the consumers in proposing that all that is necessary to do to get hamburger and weiners cheaper for the housewife is to open up import quotas ignores the need for assuring sanitation and wholesomeness of imported meat."

"If the mayor is truly concerned about meat for hamburgers and frankfurters, he will go down to the New 7, 1969, he would have seen 105,720 pounds turned back for being off condition and the inspectors notation of "rotten."

"More recently, on January 7 of this year, 22,380 pounds of boneless beef was rejected because of insects in the meat."

"Mayor Lindsay and his Commission on Inflation and Economic Welfare can do his constituents a great deal more good looking into the cause of increased prices on an increased quantity of cow beef, and determining WHO IS MARKING UP THE PRICES ON THE WAY TO HIS CONSUMERS than he will lending his prestige to one of the most expensive lobbies operating in the capitol right now."

(Rep. Melcher is also a veterinarian)

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

Increasing import meat quotas without a corresponding increase in the number of Federal inspectors, is putting the cart before the horse.

Mayor Lindsay is to be commended for attempting to promote inexpensive meat for his constituents. He is well known to viewers of the TV talk shows. The audience does however, stifle a bored yawn when he discusses the taxicab strike, garbage strike, elevator strike, subway strike, police strike, etc., etc.

He is also known for his "show business" approach to the Vietnam War which adds little to the efforts of responsible members of both political parties to end the conflict without endangering our servicemen and the local population. -J.C.

State Finance Commission Replaces Falkner, Miskell

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

In the space of less than an hour, the State Finance Commission accepted the retirement of "Mr. Banking" himself—State Banking Commissioner J. M. Falkner; named a new banking commissioner; fired State Consumer Credit Commissioner Francis A. Miskell; and named a new credit commissioner.

These actions brought to an end long-time controversies over Falkner's replacement and Miskell's position.

Commissioner Falkner, who has been with the banking department nearly 50 years (23 as commissioner), has been wanting to retire for some time, but the Finance Commission could not agree on someone to take his place.

Falkner wanted his deputy commissioner (since 1965), Robert E. Stewart, to fill the post, but there was dissent on the board. However, the problems were worked out before the meeting, and Stewart was picked unanimously.

In a surprise move, Commission voted 6-2 to discharge Commissioner Miskell and named Asst. Atty. Gen. Sam Kelley to succeed him immediately.

Miskell weathered one storm threat early this year, when it was rumored segments of the loan industry were to "get him" because of administrative actions against them. After stern talk, Commission refused to accept Miskell's resignation in February. There was no warning in this latest round, Commission members blamed administrative differences and the fact that four key agency staff positions had not been filled.

COURTS SPEAK

State Supreme Court overturned lower courts and held that Texas Aeronautics Commission had full authority to grant the Air Southwest Company of San Antonio a certificate to operate commuter flights linking Houston, Dallas-Fort Worth and San Antonio. Three major airlines have fought the application in a two-year-old legal battle.

Court of Criminal Appeals ruled that Amos Gaines of Houston, convicted of murder in Harris County in 1962 and sentenced to 99 years, should have a new trial. Court said the record of his first trial had been destroyed and the only way to make sure no error was made by the lower court was to have a new trial.

AG RULES

A member of the legislature cannot be paid from funds appropriated by the legislature for goods or services the lawmaker or firm of which he is a member sells the state, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin said in a recent ruling.

Opinion concluded that whether the corporation in which a legislator owns stock is precluded from contracting with the state or county must be determined on the basis of each individual case.

In another ruling, Martin said state agencies may sponsor seminars on appropriate matters and charge registration fees to defray expenses. State employees and officials may be reimbursed for registration expense.

CHEMICALS

Agricultural chemicals containing DDT will not be accepted for registration by the Texas Department of Agriculture until a study on their effect is completed, Commissioner John C. White announced.

Suspension of registration "does not mean that any ill effects from the agricultural use of DDT compounds have been reported or found," White said. He added that household products containing DDT will continue to be registered for use. Governor Smith has appointed an advisory committee to study the use and effects of DDT and other pesticides. It will report its findings, probably before the end of August, White said.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

When you open up a big daily newspaper you never know what you're going to find, excusing the front page, and I was flipping through one which turned up out here yesterday when I ran across a picture of a turtle, his head sticking out as he inched up a hill, hanging on the wall behind some official's desk with the motto under it: "You never get anywhere without sticking your neck out."

I got to thinking about this and you know what, how far in the last million years have turtles gotten?

On another page I found a report of a speech made by a student leader who said the purpose of all the college demonstrations is to "turn this country around."

I guess if the Atlantic and the Pacific seaboards swapped positions it'd be all right, but you see I've got this fireplace out here on this Johnson grass farm with a chimney that works fine when the wind is out of the north but smokes when it's out of the south, which is all right because with a south wind blowing I don't need a fire, but if the students are going to make the wind blow south in the winter, ...

Of course, what they mean I guess is that they're going to turn people around, but I'm not sure about that either. What I mean is, from an esthetic standpoint, most of us don't look any better coming than going.

Say, speaking of students, I'm all for their drive to clean up the environment everywhere except where they've been demonstrating; when they run out of litter in the cities I've got some out here ready to be picked up, but I was just thinking, have you noticed that in their drive to eliminate the causes of litter such as throw-aways and bottles, they've been picketing soda-water plants, not breweries? Them kids ain't so dumb.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Fist In The Face

"Your right to shake your fist ends where the other fellow's nose begins."

This maxim is often quoted by lawyers to illustrate that there are limits to each person's freedom. And the maxim is free enough, as far as it goes.

But it leaves out the fact that simply shaking your fist may also be unlawful, even before it reaches the other fellow's nose. If your fist is sufficiently menacing, you would be committing an "assault," for which the victim is entitled to damages.

The word "assault" is frequently joined with "battery" in the phrase "assault and battery." They are, however, two different menacing enough to support a claim.

Even when the parties are face-to-face, the law won't protect the Nervous Nellie who sees danger where most people would see none. In another case, during an argument, a man shook his finger at a woman seated eight feet away. She sued him for assault, but the court turned her down. The judge said it was foolish of her to be frightened by such an innocuous gesture.

What if there is no danger in fact, but the person has good reason to believe that there is? Suppose, for instance, that A points his gun at B. A knows the gun is empty, but B thinks it is loaded. In such circumstances, most courts have held that A has indeed assaulted B, just as if the gun were really loaded.

"(B's) suffering," a judge observed, "is the same in the one case as in the other."

STUDENTS TAKE HISTORY TRIP

Three bus loads of Junior High Students enjoyed an historical outing to Huntsville May 14.

Miss Mary Belle Batte assisted by Mrs. Cecil Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Max Morgan accompanied the 120 students to several points of interest that included a visit to Sam Houston University Museum, Washington on Brazos and Independence.

As wind up for the event the students enjoyed their sack lunches in the Huntsville State park.

The trip was partially financed by proceeds from the 7th grade historical play that was given May 8.

Problems On Grain Seedlings

By J. D. Moore

Dr. C. D. Welch, Extension soil chemist, says that damping-off caused by one or several soil-borne organisms are common each year. When this occurs, one sees dead plants occurring randomly through the stand.

Occasionally, stands become so sparse that replanting is necessary. Replanting of field crops is out of the question locally after the month of April. An increasing number of specimens received points to concentrations of commercial fertilizers as a contributing factor in seedling stand loss, according to Dr. Welch. When several feet of stand is lost in the row, one can suspect that this may be the problem.

Dr. Welch says that this may occur when anhydrous ammonia or other commercial fertilizers are placed too close to the seed drill. The pattern of occurrence may serve as a tip to the nature of damage.

CROPS GENERALLY

Grain sorghum and cotton crops have not made the growth expected by our farmers. This condition is partially due to the weather pattern of the past two months.

The temperature has been too cool along with limited moisture for normal function of fertilizer elements. Then too, we have had unusually cloudy weather to hinder chlorophyll action in plants.

The cloudy, cool weather has greatly reduced the fruit setting of the tomato plants. A good rain followed by sunshine would clear up most of these plant growth problems.

COTTON PROGRAM ROLLS

Twenty-four years ago a program was initiated by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and today the 7-Step Cotton Program is still basic to the cotton industry. Fred C. Elliott, Extension cotton specialist, says production methods have undergone many changes for the better. He sees no change in the pace of changes in the future. He cites the cotton farmer's acceptance of new ideas as one of the most important changes.

ASCS News

By Alva E. Sanders

Milam County farmers who are taking part in the feed grain cotton programs are being reminded that early compliance and early certification will mean early payments this year.

Farmers should certify compliance as soon as possible, but they also must understand that acreage certifications are not to be made until they know they are in compliance with all program regulations.

When a participant in a 1970 farm program certifies compliance, he certifies accurately to acreages in the program crops and to diverted acreage. He also certifies that he has complied with conserving base provisions, with regulations that apply if he has an interest in more than one farm, that the diverted acres on his farm are devoted to an approved conserving use, and that all other program requirements have been met.

As soon as a program participant certifies, the County ASCS Office begins processing papers for his full payment for 1970 program participation. Payments to producers will begin soon after July 1 and are expected to be completed by the end of August -- the earliest date ever set for completion of program payments.

After a farm has been certified to be in compliance with farm programs, it may be checked at any time to determine if any errors were made in certification. If errors are found, the producer will be determined to have not fully complied and may lose some or all of his farm program payments.

Summer Baseball Schedule Listed

Pony, Minor and Little League game schedules were announced this week by Bill Hornung, Little League Association president.

Hornung said a larger than expected registration for Little League had made a sixth team necessary and caused a reworking of the game schedule.

Record Year Predicted For Rural Housing Loans

People served by Farmers Home Administration (FHA) rural housing program are moving into new or improved homes at 17.4 percent faster rate than a year ago, according to James V. Smith, National Administrator of FHA.

A progress report on FHA rural housing loans shows that for the first nine months of fiscal year 1970, the agency approved 43,748 rural housing loans totaling $465.4 million.

This compares with 37,277 loans totaling $360.7 million in the corresponding period of fiscal year 1969, with a prediction that new homes will run twice as high this year as in any previous year.

SWINE PRODUCTION

PR-2756, a Texas Agricultural Experiment Station publication summarizes 1969 studies in the Plains areas of Texas dealing with the economics of swine production. Advances in production technology and favorable hog prices have caused many farm operators to consider swine as a possible supplemental enterprise in their farming operations.

The County ASCS Office has received instructions to keep up to date on farm control checks. A substantial number of farms in the county will be selected at random for these checks. Generally, the percentage of errors found is quite small and usually the result of carelessness or misunderstanding. It is hoped fewer certification mistakes will be made this year than ever before.

The spring seasonal upsurge of building is expected to result in the FHA surpassing $800 million in insured housing loans for year ending June 30.

The year's activity, Smith said, will account for about 80,000 new and improved homes for rural Americans of low and moderate income.

Last year, the agency's previous record year, FHA insured $500 million worth of loans on 50,000 homes.

Under authority conferred by the Housing Act of 1969, Farmers Home Administration has launched a new type of 2-year loan to public and private non-profit organizations to develop homebuilding sites lacking in rural areas and a conditional commitment to builders certifying that homes they construct will qualify for FHA insured loans to homebuyers.

Building sites improved with Farmers Home Administration financing will be sold as sites for homes of low-to-moderate income families who can secure housing loans insured by the Farmers Home Administration. These sites also are available for rental housing for low and moderate income families.

"The rural program is going to be a sustained attack on the shortage of housing and blight of bad housing in rural America," Smith said. "The average house we are financing is a 3-bedroom home, modern in its facilities, costing $12,000 to $13,000 to build in a rural area. It is fully adequate for the family that will occupy it, and it can be bought and paid for by a rural family of modest means."

Farm Bill Controversy Continues In Congress

Cong. W. R. Poage reports that the House is "at least acting on a number of the major appropriations bills" but said it is still "impossible to predict when we will get a general farm bill."

Poage, in his weekly newsletter, said the Administration has made concessions since discussions on the bill started, "but we do not as yet have all of the changes which I think are desirable and possibly attainable."

There is no unity among farmers themselves, Poage said, "and I am afraid that a number of farmer organizations will oppose any particular bill which is approved."

"If we do not get a bill our farmers are going to lose about $3 billion in income and our city people are going to find that their food and fiber costs have gone up several times that amount because of the withdrawal of the government subsidy," Poage said.

7 OUT OF 250 SUBSIDIZED

Out of some 250 U. S. farm commodities only cotton, peanuts, sugar, rice, tobacco, feed grains and wheat, are subsidized, according to a Reader's Digest article released to The Herald before publication of the magazine's May issue.

Excerpts from the article appeared in the April 30 Herald. "Producers of commodities from soybeans to livestock regularly shift production to meet consumer demands, and earn fair returns," the article states.

Cong. Poage, in commenting on progress of the farm bill in his May 15 newsletter, said "I know that we cannot get the Administration to support everything we would like to have them support. I think the best way to get what we want is to negotiate in a reasonable manner. I don't think we are going to get what we want by abusing or threatening anyone."

"...I must repeat that there is no use of writing a perfect farm program which can't be passed," he continued.

"Some of our farm organizations are convinced that they can show the city Members that they should vote for a farm program. Again, it is not a question of how Members of Congress should vote. It is how they are going to vote," he said.

Mrs. Jane Cunningham will graduate from Scott & White Hospital School of Professional Nursing tomorrow night. It will be a special occasion for the whole family, as they look back on three years of long, hard work.

The Cunninghams, who live near Milano, moved from Houston two years ago. They have two sons, Carlton, 10 and Terry, 9.

To arrive at Scott & White in time for starting class at 7 a.m., Mrs. Cunningham got up at 5:30 a.m. The boys attend St. Anthony School, where they arrive each school day at 6:30, then Jane went to school, O. J., her husband, works at KBTX-TV.

"I'm sure glad WE'RE finally graduating," her husband says. "It's been a long, expensive three years."

"I wore out one car," Jane said, adding that the distance from her home to S&W is 80 miles, round trip. She said she had several scholarships to help pay her tuition at school.

"Nights and nights" of studying also went into making Jane a nurse. She was a Licensed Vocational Nurse for five years, she said, and worked for a doctor in Houston. She will become a Registered Nurse after taking a State Board examination in July.

Scott & White's nursing school is now phased out, ending with the 1970 graduating class. Future nursing students will attend Mary Hardin-Baylor's four-year degree program, obtaining their clinical experience at Scott and White.

After all, heat that hangs on after your range is turned off isn't your fault. But you have to clean up after it.

However, gas ranges turn on and off instantly. No heat's left over to scorch your food, burn your pans or cause food to boil over.

Farm Bureau To Study Programs

Plans for an organizational activity to evaluate current Farm Bureau programs and to establish priorities for an expanded program on the county and state levels were discussed at a district meeting held May 14 in Temple.

Local Farm Bureau leaders attending the district meeting included the president Robert Jungmann, Mrs. Berenice Charles and Mrs. Maxine Meyer, secretary-treasurer.

Texas Farm Bureau President Sidney Dean of Victoria and Executive Director O. R. Long of Waco spoke at the meeting and outlined plans for the study program which will involve all of the 203 organized county Farm Bureaus in the state.

Dean said the program grew out of a recommendation of a special Study Committee which he appointed last year which has been making an in-depth study of Farm Bureau programs and operations.

The local county Farm Bureau will be involved in the study program, according to Jungmann. He said a meeting of the Milam County Farm Bureau Board of Directors will be held soon to develop recommendations for the expanded program.

Marketing Good For Corn Buyer

COLLEGE STATION

Fresh corn is not a scarce item now as the supply of Texas - grown corn is supplemented with Florida's new crop, advises Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Prices have moved downward to attractive levels and supplies are expected to be good for several weeks to come.

In selecting corn, look for: bright green husks, a sign of freshness; and also dark brown silk at the end of the husk, a sign of well-filled kernels.

Keep the corn cool. Natural corn sugars change to starch within 20 minutes after picking.

Most of the sweet corn is hydrocooled in the fields, then iced in the stores. From the time the customer buys it, it's up to him to hurry it home to the kitchen range or to the refrigerator as soon as possible.

If it must be stored, leave the husks on and wrap in moisture-proof paper to keep the kernels from drying out in the refrigerator.

While fresh corn is attractively priced, the homemaker might try corn fritters, scalloped corn, corn and cheese souffle, and the all - time favorite, corn-on-the-cob.

Rep. Kubiak To Receive 4-H Award

State Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale will receive the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundations 1970 Individual Award at 5:30 p.m. on June 2 in the G. Rollie White Coliseum located on the campus of Texas A&M University in College Station.

This will be one of the highlights of State 4-H Roundup, according to Fred Schuetz, assistant County Agent for Milam County.

Each year adult leaders, business men and private individuals who have contributed to 4-H work on the county, district and state levels are chosen by Extension Agents to compete for awards given at the state 4-H Roundup.

The agents fill out applications, unknown to the individual, and send them in for District and State judging.

Floyd Lynch, State 4-H Club leader, informed Kubiak and Schuetz that Rep. Kubiak was selected as one of the top 12 individuals who supported 4-H club work in the state during 1969-70 and the top supporter of 4-H work in District 8 during this period of time.

Among those varieties identified were (listed mostly under their common names): Mexican Hat, Black Eyed Susan, Indian Paint Brush, Indian Blanket (Gallardia), Texas Thistle, Horse Mint, Yucca, Evening Primrose, White Primrose, Fleabane, Wild Larkspur, Wild Phlox, Pepper Grass, Grousel (blooms yellow and is new for Milam county), Dandelion, Milfoil, Huisache, Spiderwort, Johnson Grass, Tallow Weed, Dock, Purple Horsemint, Bergamot Horsemint, Slender Vervain (verbena family), Pink Texas Star (gentian), Tansy Mustard, Bull Nettle, Wild Onion and others.

Following the wildflower identification session, the group enjoyed a picnic lunch. Afterwards they went to the ranch of Mr. and Mrs. Milton J. Falkner where they explored the wooded area and gathered interesting tree branches and vines suitable for use in flower arranging.

Versatile Ground Beef Provides Foreign Dining Adventure at Family Table

Nourish the traveling bug that develops when the temperature warms by embarking on a tasty trip to a foreign land. Take the tour via ground beef, excellent with flavoring of any continent. It's available without prior reservation and at reasonable rates.

Travel can be varied as one may go via meat loaves, pies, balls, casseroles or other mixtures. Many countries can be included in the timetable. Italy is an easy stop-over with lasagna and Armeria with cabbage rolls. But our near neighbor Mexico is a logical first on the schedule.

Mexicali Meat Pie is typical of this region according to Reba Staggs of the National Live Stock and Meat Board. This is a chili-flavored ground beef pie with a cornmeal crust.

She also recommends a visit to Germany on this passport-free trip. Meat Balls Heidelberg capture the lively air of this riverside town with beef, caraway seed, vinegar, bread, sauerkraut and potatoes—all German favorites.

Mexicali Meat Pie
1½ pounds ground beef
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ cup chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon lard or drippings
1 can (16 ounces) chili with beans
1 cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup cornmeal

2 to 4 tablespoons cold water
½ cup shredded Cheddar cheese

Beef Balls Heidelberg

1½ teaspoons caraway seed
1 tablespoon vinegar
1½ cups rye bread crumbs

¼ cup milk
1 egg, slightly beaten
1½ teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 can (16 ounces) sauerkraut
1 can (14 ounces) sliced potatoes, drained
Chopped parsley, if desired

Mix ground beef, caraway seed, vinegar, crumbs, onion, milk, egg and salt. Shape mixture into 18 balls about 1½ inches in diameter. Brown slowly in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add sauerkraut and potatoes and cook slowly 10 minutes or until heated through. Sprinkle chopped parsley over top, if desired. 6 servings.

Texas Power & Light Company and two other electric companies today announced they plan to construct a lignite-fired power plant capable of producing more than one million kilowatts of electricity near Mt. Pleasant in Titus County.

Plans are contingent on approval of the various regulatory agencies involved.

The proposed plant will be located southwest of Mt. Pleasant, T. L. Austin, Jr., TP&L president, said. It will have an estimated maximum capability of 1,150,000 kilowatts, and will be a joint venture by TP&L, Dallas Power & Light Company and Texas Electric Service Company of Fort Worth.

There will be two 575,000-kilowatt generating units at the site. The first will be completed for the peak season of 1975 and the second a year later.

The plant would be the second lignite-fired electric plant constructed jointly by the three companies.

Plans for environmental control include electrostatic precipitators in the plant to remove over 99 percent of the particulates from the stack gases and a land reclamation program to operate concurrently with the production of the lignite.

Construction of this plant is subject to obtaining the necessary water rights and regulatory approvals.

4-Quarter School Group Holds Hearing At Houston

Some 200 representatives from schools, PTA, school boards and the business community testified before the HSK 365 Four Quarter School Committee meeting in Houston last week, according to Rep. Dan Kubiak, member of that committee.

Twenty-six counties containing over one-third of the total Texas public school population sent representatives to the gathering, Kubiak noted.

"From all information presented in this first of five meetings," he said in his weekly newsletter, "it was found that dividing the school into quarters has much merit."

Rep. Kubiak emphasized that no change would result for the rural schools and those under 3,000 scholars for they would operate as they do today, taking their vacation during the summer months.

"Much study and research must be done before any action is taken during the next 10 years," he said.

Advantages include savings in cost per pupil of 25 percent, savings in cost per pupil of 25 percent, savings to taxpayers, enrichment programs for all students, acceleration programs for achievers, remedial programs for slow learners and a predicted

'Caution' Is The Word When You Meet Snakes

"Caution" is the word to remember when you or a member of your family encounter a poisonous snake.

A person's fear of snakes could well be his worst enemy in an actual encounter with any one of the four poisonous snakes found in Texas: the rattlesnake, copperhead, cottonmouth, and coral snakes. The most prevalent in Texas is the rattlesnake.

Should you encounter a rattler, the safest thing to do is to remain perfectly still or edge slowly away. The worst thing you could do is run, or shout, or make a quick motion. You only excite the snake, making it more apt to strike in self defense.

Actually, more people die of insect bites in Texas than snake bites. Some 46 persons died of insect bites over the past ten years, compared to only 31 deaths from snake bites. But snake bite deaths are most frequent among the young and old.

The wise outdoorsman will avoid places where a snake may make a home. Walking in weedy areas with brush piles or thick undergrowth is asking a snake to lash out. Don't assume that a snake will shake its rattles as a signal of attack, or that it only strikes when coiled.

TREATING SNAKE BITES

In applying first aid for snakebite, make the victim lie down as soon as possible and apply a constricting bandage above the bite.

The pulse in blood vessels below the bandage should not disappear, nor should the bandage produce a throbbing sensation.

Loosen the bandage for a few seconds every 15 minutes. If possible, apply ice packs to the bite and get the victim to a physician or hospital.

If there is going to be lengthy interval until antivenin can be given, make cuts cautiously through the skin into and just above the presumed venom deposit site, avoiding tendons, and apply suction.

Antivenin for coral snakebites is available through the Texas Health Department. The State Health Department laboratory in Austin, and laboratories in local health departments at Dallas, Houston, Corpus Christi, and San Antonio, serve as distribution centers for the antivenin.

Theater Workshop Initiated

A children's theater workshop for junior high school and high school students will be sponsored by the Temple Civic Theater through the Cultural Activities Center beginning June 1.

occurs, the physician or hospital should immediately request antivenin from the nearest distribution center. Other poison antivenins are available through commercial sources.

The classes in stagecraft, acting, makeup, crew work and rehearsals will be taught by Fred Goodson, TCT resident director.

The schedule of classes is as follows: 9 a.m. - noon and 2-5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays June 1-26.

Goodson holds a bachelor of fine arts degree from the University of Texas and has recently received his master of fine arts in dramatic production from the university.

The workshop will be completed with performances by the students of James Thurber's "The 13 Clocks."

CAC members will be given a discount on tuition. A production fee will also be charged.

Inquiries from those desiring to register for the workshop may be directed to the CAC office, 778-8722 or 778-4551, Temple.

MAKE A PINWHEEL

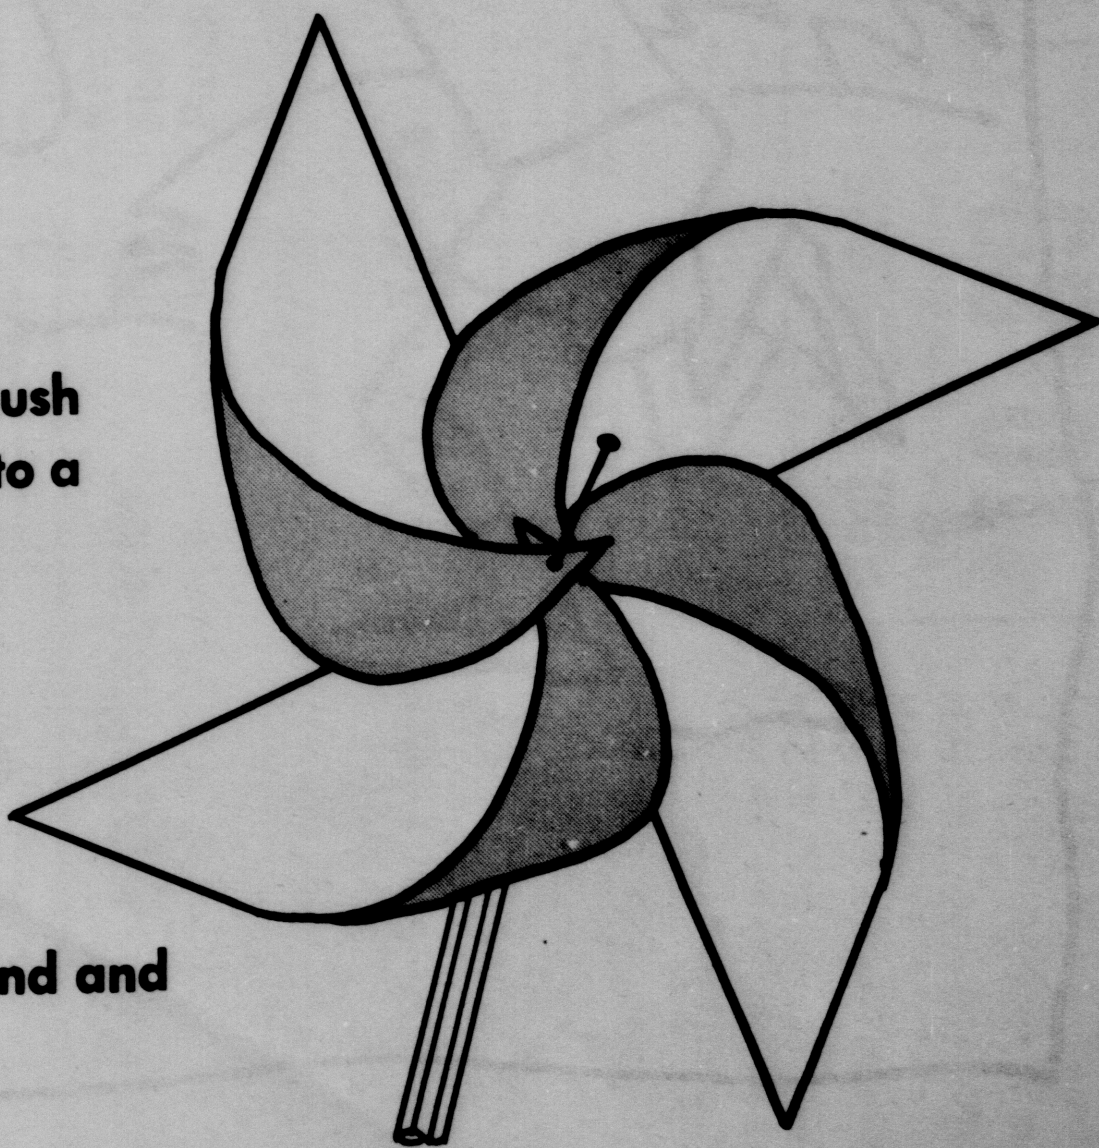

Start with a square piece of heavy paper. Draw straight lines from corner to corner, then number each corner like this.

With your scissors, cut along each line toward the center, but be sure not to cut all the way to where the lines cross.

Bend corner number 1 toward the center. Do the same with corners 2, 3 and 4, holding each one in place as you do the next one.

When all 4 corners are folded over, push a pin through the center and then into a long stick, straw or pencil.

Now hold your pinwheel into the wind and watch it spin.
